

Roll Up Your Sleeves - There's Work to Be Done Let's Discuss Hanford Cleanup!

State of the Hanford Site Meeting
Jan. 22, 2003, 6:30 p.m.
OMSI Auditorium, Portland, OR

The Biggest Environmental Cleanup Ever!

WHO?

The Washington State Department of Ecology, U.S. Department of Energy, U.S. Environmental Protection Agency; the Tri-Party Agencies responsible for cleaning up the Hanford Site

WHAT?

A discussion among agency officials, public interest groups, Hanford Advisory Board representatives, and you, the public

WHEN and WHERE?

Wednesday, January 22, 6:30 open house, 7:00 meeting
Oregon Museum of Science and Industry, Portland, OR for directions log on to <http://www.oms.edu/info/directions/>

FREE PARKING!

WHY?

Find out what's happening with the Hanford Cleanup.
Hear about cleanup goals and challenges for the upcoming year.
Ask questions and share your opinions.
Learn how to get more involved in the public participation process.

If you're interested in protecting our resources and ensuring Hanford Cleanup success, please join us!

Call the Hanford Hotline toll free at (800)321-2008 for more info.

